

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY READERS' THEATRE

presents

THE GREEN PASTURES

by Marc Connelly

184 Jesse Knight Building

April 10-11, 1964

8:15 p.m.

Joseph Smith Auditorium

April 11, 1964

1:30 p.m.

THE GREEN PASTURES

by Marc Connelly

Director Preston R. Gledhill

READERS

Lynn Benson God
Charles Hunter Gabriel, Moses
Kim Brewster Mr. Deshee, Noah
Gary Glauser Cain, Hezdrel and others
Richard Larson Adam, Pharaoh and others
Wallace Brazzeal Head Magician, Joshua and others
Marla Joy King Cain's Girl, Zeba and others
Michele Priebe Noah's Wife, Eve, and others

PRODUCTION STAFF

John Harker, Marcia Halladay Lights
Merlin Hansen, Wildon Clegg, David Conrad Sound

Note: This dramatic fable, called an epic and "the divine comedy of the modern theatre," was suggested by Bradford's Ol' Man Adam and His Chillum. Brigham Young University's Readers' Theatre production will be an experimental blend of acting and interpretive styles of presentation.