

The Promised Valley Playhouse A Brigham Young University
presents production

HARVEY

February 10-26

Program Notes

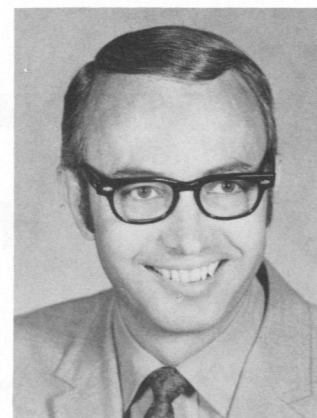

Few works in American comedy have received the attention over the years that tonight's show "Harvey" has. This classic by Mary Chase, is listed by drama text books as one of the outstanding comedic works in contemporary theatre.

In 1944, the Pulitzer Prize was awarded to Mary Chase for "Harvey" in somewhat of a surprise. That year everyone expected the Pulitzer winner would be Tennessee Williams for his work "The Glass Menagerie." However, it seems the world preferred comedy in a year racked with the problems of world war.

"Harvey" touches hearts as much today as it did then. Perhaps we need comedy even more today. Elwood P. Dowd represents an innocence and understanding that, perhaps, we all wish we had.

Director Ivan Crosland chose to set his production in the Twenties instead of the Forties. In this way he hopes each of us can escape into the marvelous world of Dowd and his friend.

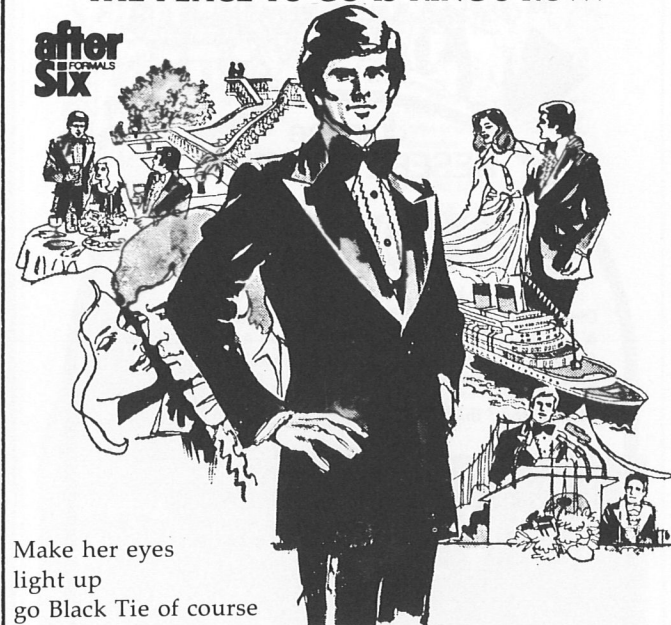

The Promised Valley Playhouse invites you to sit back and just relax. Who knows, maybe you'll even escape with Elwood enough to see the loveable rabbit friend that he loves . . . If you do, then let us know. We'll get you an appointment with Dr. Chumley.

IVAN A. CROSLAND,
Director of HARVEY

Mr. Crosland is currently an Assistant Professor in the Department of Theatre and Cinematic Arts at Brigham Young University. His list of both acting and directing achievements is long and impressive. He has directed such works as MUSIC MAN, PLAY THE DRUM SO IT IS HEARD AGAIN, THE DOVE, and DO NOT SPINDLE, FOLD OR MUTILATE. His acting achievements include parts in KING LEAR and RICHARD II. He is known for his work with BYU film studios and is a past member of the MIA General Board. The PLAYHOUSE is pleased to have his talents in this show for you.
